COMPLAINT

1. This is an action brought by an individual consumer for Defendant(s)'s violations of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, 15 U.S.C. 1692, et seq. (hereinafter "FDCPA").
2. Plaintiff is Alexis Rios an adult individual, resident of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania with a mailing address for purposes of this litigation of c/o Piontek Law Office, 58 East Front Street, Danville, PA. 17821.
3. Defendant is AFNI, Inc., a business entity with a principal place of business located at 1310 Martin Luther King Drive, Bloomington, IL 61701.
4. Defendant regularly conducts business in this jurisdiction, and avails itself of the benefits of this jurisdiction.
5. Plaintiff is a key witness and is located in this jurisdiction.

- Case# 2021-03626-3 - JUDGE:40 Received at County of Bucks Prothonotary on 07/12/2021 7:39 AM. Fee = $0.00. The filer certifies that this filing complies with the provisions of the Public Access Policy of the Unified Judicial System of Pennsylvania: Case Records of the Appellate and Trial Courts that require filing confidential information and documents differently than non-confidential information and documents.
6. Upon information and belief, similarly situated consumers who may be witnesses in this case are located in this jurisdiction.
 7. A substantial portion of the transaction(s), occurrence(s), act(s) or omission(s) took place in this jurisdiction.
 8. This Court has jurisdiction under 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(d) and 28 U.S.C. § 1331.
 9. Venue is proper before this Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) as a substantial part of the events giving rise to Plaintiff's claims occurred in this district.

COUNT ONE: Violation of Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA)
(15 USC 1692c et. seq.)
Unauthorized Disclosure to Third party Letter Vendor

10. The Previous Paragraphs of this complaint are incorporated by reference.
11. At all times mentioned in this Complaint Plaintiff was a natural person who at all relevant times resided in Pennsylvania.
12. At all times mentioned in this complaint Defendant was attempting to collect a consumer debt from Plaintiff which was primarily for Plaintiff's personal family and household purposes.
13. Plaintiff is a "consumer" as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(3).

14. At all times mentioned in this Complaint. Defendant was a debt collector as defined by 15 USC 1692a of the FDCPA.
15. Defendant is an entity that at all relevant times was engaged, by use of the mails and telephone, in the business of attempting to collect a “debt” from Plaintiff, as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(5).
16. At the time Defendant attempted to collect the Debt from Plaintiff, the Debt was alleged to be in default, or Defendant treated the Debt as if it were in default from the time that Defendant acquired it for collection.
17. Defendant uses instrumentalities of interstate commerce or the mails in a business the principal purpose of which is the collection of any debts, or to regularly collect or attempt to collect, directly or indirectly, debts owed or due, or asserted to be owed or due, another.
18. Prior to the commencement of this lawsuit, Plaintiff had a consumer account with a creditor than Defendant.
19. Said account was a consumer account which was used for Plaintiff's personal and household purposes.
20. Said account was later determined to be in default by the original alleged creditor.

21. Shortly after the original alleged creditor determined that the account was in default they contracted with Defendant to service the account as a debt collector as defined by 15 USC 1692a of the FDCPA.
22. Prior to the commencement of this action, Defendant caused written communication(s) to be sent to Plaintiff in connection with the collection of the account.
23. Upon information and belief the letter was generated by a letter vendor.
24. Upon information and belief typical letters sent by Defendant's letter vendor has markings that are characteristic of one generated by a letter vendor.
25. In order to have the letter vendor send Plaintiff the letter Defendant had to furnish the letter vendor with Plaintiff's name and address, the status of Plaintiff as a debtor, details of Plaintiff's alleged debt, and other personal information.
26. The letter vendor then populated some or all of this information into a prewritten template, printed, and mailed the letter to Plaintiff.
27. The FDCPA defines "communication" at 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(3) as "the conveying of information regarding a debt directly or indirectly to any person through any medium."
28. The sending of an electronic file containing information about Plaintiff's purported debt to a letter vendor is therefore a communication.
29. The communication(s) to the letter vendor Defendant was in connection with the collection of a debt since it involved disclosure of the debt to a third-party with the objective being communication with and motivation of the consumer to pay the alleged debt.

30. The communication(s) to the letter vendor disclosed the following things about the Plaintiff and the alleged debt.

- a. the balance of the alleged debt.
- b. the alleged delinquency status of the alleged debt.
- c. the creditor to whom Defendant alleged the Debt was owed.
- d. the account number for the alleged debt.
- e. Plaintiff's name.
- f. Plaintiff's home address.
- g. That Defendant was a debt collector attempting to collect a debt from Plaintiff.

31. Plaintiff did not provide consent to Defendant to communicate or share any information about the Debt with the third party letter vendor or any other third-party mail vendor.

32. Upon information and belief, Defendant did not print the letter sent to Plaintiff about the account which is the subject of this case. The third-party mail vendor printed and sent the letter communication(s) to Plaintiff, using the above information supplied by Defendant.

33. The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (“CFPB”) is a Federal agency tasked with enforcing the FDCPA.
34. Pertinent here, section 1692c(b) of the FDCPA, titled “communication with third parties,” provides that— Except as provided in section 1692b of this title, without the prior consent of the consumer given directly to the debt collector, or the express permission of a court of competent jurisdiction, or as reasonably necessary to effectuate a post judgment judicial remedy, a debt collector may not communicate, in connection with the collection of any debt, with any person other than the consumer, his attorney, a consumer reporting agency if otherwise permitted by law, the creditor, the attorney of the creditor, or the attorney of the debt collector. 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(b) (emphasis added).
35. The provision that section 1692c(b) cross-references—section 1692b—governs the manner in which a debt collector may communicate “with any person other than the consumer for the purpose of acquiring location information.” 15 U.S.C. § 1692b.
36. The FDCPA thus broadly prohibits a debt collector from communicating with anyone other than the consumer “in connection with the collection of any debt,” subject to several carefully crafted exceptions—some enumerated in section 1692c(b), and others in section 1692b—none of which are applicable here.

37. Despite this prohibition—one designed to protect consumers’ privacy—debt collectors, including Defendant, often send information regarding consumers’ alleged debts to third-party mail vendors.
38. The CFPB once conducted a survey. The survey indicated that “over 85 percent of debt collectors surveyed by the [CFPB] reported using letter vendors.” See <https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2019/05/21/2019-09665/debt-collection-practices-regulation-f#citation-749-p23396> at n. 749
39. These third-party mail vendors use information provided by debt collectors—such as the consumer’s name and address, the name of the creditor to whom the debt is allegedly owed, the name of the original creditor, and the amount of the alleged debt—to fashion, print, and mail debt collection letters to consumers.
40. This unnecessary and illegal practice exposes private information regarding alleged debts to third parties not exempted by the FDCPA.
41. Upon information and belief, Defendant routinely communicates with, and provides protected information regarding consumer debts to, third-party mail vendors, in connection with the collection of a debt, that are not authorized to receive such information, in violation of the FDCPA.
42. Pertinent here, the FDCPA at 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(b) provides that “a debt collector may not communicate, in connection with the collection of any debt, with any person other than the consumer, her attorney, a consumer reporting agency if otherwise permitted by law, the creditor, the attorney of the creditor, or the attorney of the debt collector.

43. By communicating regarding the Debt, including by disclosing, among other things, the existence of the Debt, the amount owed, the alleged creditor, and Plaintiff's name and address, with a third-party mail vendor, Defendant violated 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(b). See Hunstein v. Preferred Collection & Mgmt. Servs., Inc., --- F.3d ----, 2021 WL 1556069 (11th Cir. Apr. 21, 2021).

44. The harm suffered by Plaintiff is particularized in that illegal communication related to her personal alleged debt.

45. The violation of Plaintiff's right not to have Plaintiff's private information shared with third parties is a concrete injury sufficient to confer standing.

46. To be sure, the harm Plaintiff alleges here—disclosure of private information of a personal, sensitive nature to third-party vendors—is precisely the type of abusive debt collection practice that the FDCPA was designed to prevent. See 15 U.S.C. § 1692(a) (“Abusive debt collection practices contribute to the number of personal bankruptcies, to marital instability, to the loss of jobs, and to invasions of individual privacy.”) (emphasis added).

47. Additionally, by communicating with a third party in connection with the collection of the Debt, Defendant harmed Plaintiff by invading Plaintiff's privacy.

- Case# 2021-03626-3 - JUDGE:40 Received at County of Bucks Prothonotary on 07/12/2021 7:39 AM. Fee = $0.00. The filer certifies that this filing complies with the provisions of the Public Access Policy of the Unified Judicial System of Pennsylvania: Case Records of the Appellate and Trial Courts that require filing confidential information and documents differently than non-confidential information and documents. E- Filed by: VICKI ANN PIONTEK, Esq.
48. By communicating with a third party in connection with the collection of the Debt, Defendant harmed Plaintiff by disclosing private facts about Plaintiff and the Debt.
49. Defendant breached its duties under the FDCPA through its failure to keep Plaintiff's personal financial information confidential and therefore intruded upon Plaintiff's privacy interests. See Todd v. Collecto, Inc., 731 F.3d 734, 738 (7th Cir. 2013).

LIABILITY

50. All previous paragraphs of this complaint are incorporated by reference.
